Generous Giving

“experience generous stewardship in capital fund raising”

The Experience

Although we have more than 20 years of experience in working with churches in capital fund raising, The Austin Group is not your typical fill in the blanks and follow our calendar approach to capital stewardship. Each capital fund campaign begins with your church and your vision. We strive to learn how you do things and create an experience of the entire congregation.

With the inclusion of your vision and strengths, we customize your campaign to the uniqueness of your church. Our goal is to get as many members of the church involved as possible. The Generous Giving program is an experience for the whole church.

*“... even though our capital fund pledge amount was $ 1,291,085 (and the 3 year commitment ended in May), at the end of May our receipts have been $ 1,549,598. So we are praising the Lord for His blessings.

Key Elements

The Generous Giving campaign consist of several key elements. It starts and ends with a spiritual focus. The spiritual focus weekend is key to the success of the campaign. We custom design a weekend that is filled with teaching from God's word. Your consultant will take a look into the old testament and examine examples of giving and fund raising. A strong focus on prayer, and openness to follow God's heart are at the forefront. Lessons on stewardship are taught followed up by a personal money management seminar.

Getting information into members hands is crucial to the development of your vision. We have the tools to insure your success. We utilize newsletters, posters, banners, e-mail, and web sites to keep members involved. We can utilize sites like facebook and twitter to insure members are informed.

This exciting time in your church needs to be celebrated by the people. A celebration event is planned to experience what God is doing in your church as a congregation. Filled with testimonies and the option of guest speakers, this event will bring your congregation and vision together.

Through weeks of prayer, biblical teaching and celebration, comes a time of commitment. Once they are prepared spiritually, each member is encouraged to open their hearts and listen to what God is saying.

“The process brought us together as a group.”

“Their approach is different from others out there.”

Time for a Change

For several decades now, the world of church stewardship has been dominated by a handful of companies that have been utilizing a method of fund-raising from the 1950's. This method served its purpose very well, but our world has changed. It is time for something new.

The Austin Group believes that every church is unique. Therefore, rather than squeezing you into our calendar and having you fill in our blanks, we begin every campaign with a blank sheet of paper, Our first goal is to get to know your church. We begin by listening.

The next step is to gather the information we learn about your church and apply it to timeless principles of stewardship. The result is a program that is not only true to biblical teaching but also fresh as the morning news headlines.

You will discover that at the end of the campaign, your church has more than a pile of commitment cards. You will have a group of people who understand and practice generosity in their giving. When that happens, it is likely this will be the last campaign your church will ever need.
